ANSWER TO A QUESTION

One of the big questions before the invasion of France concerned the manner in which American troops who never had been in battle would react to actual combat conditions. The Germans undoubtedly counted heavily on the inability of untried American troops to conduct themselves effectively the first time they were in action.

The question now has been answered to the satisfaction of the Allies and the disappointment of the Germans. The dash with which the Americans took Cherbourg left the Germans dazed and bewildered. The combat-green Americans carried themselves so well that Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, paid them special tribute in a statement to the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes. General Marshall said that the Western Front invasion was perfectly co-ordinated and that on his recent visit to the battlefield he found evidence of a high standard of leadership throughout.

From every portion of the line where our men were fighting," he said, "come reports of the aggressive action, skill and high morale displayed by the American soldier.

"Those engaging in their first combat carried themselves like the veterans of experienced divisions. This probably was the most reassuring aspect of the operations to us and the most depressing to the enemy."

HALSEY'S NEW ASSIGNMENT

Some weeks ago the removal of Admiral William F. Halsey as commander of Allied naval forces in the South Pacific gave rise to speculation that he might be destined for an administrative post ashore, a job that would take him down to a desk and take away from active sea duty one of the most effective naval leaders of the war.

Admiral Halsey's new orders have put an end to such speculation and allayed all fears of his being shifted to a desk job. By his exploits in the South Pacific Admiral Halsey worked himself out of a job in that area, but he is by no means through as a combat officer.

An announcement by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific commander-in-chief, says that Admiral Halsey, because of the relative quiet in the South Pacific area, has been given command of the Third Fleet, which will operate in the Pacific. It will work in the same way as the Fifth Fleet under Admiral Raymond A. Spruance, which has missed few actions against the Japanese in recent months.

It is good news that Admiral Halsey will continue with a fighting command in the Pacific—good news, that is, not to the Japanese but to the American people and the men of the fleet, to whom he is a symbol of daring and great naval skill.

It also is good news to Admiral Halsey himself, who was afraid of just one thing—that the war might be brought to a close before he could strike Japan.

KAYO ARNOLD TO OPPOSE ALVAREZ IN PHILA. SCRAP

Acid Ring Test Faces Hard-
Hitting Fistman On Monday Night

RIVAL IS STRONG FOE

Arnold Has Record of Belting Ten Rivals Out in
One Round

PHILADELPHIA, June 24—The acid ring test faces K. O. Billy Arnold, the hardest punching fistman to ever represent the City of Brotherly Love within the bempen ropes. The Alumnus of the Benjamin Franklin High School has an eight-round test on Herman Taylor's second Arena Outdoor offering, Monday night.

Fitted against the chap who knocked out 18 of 20 rivals will be the widely experienced Roman Alvarez, now a member of Uncle Sam's Paratroops. Never before has Arnold faced a rival of Alvarez's calibre and, based on what the Spanish-American has shown in his Olympia gym workouts with Mike Evans, it wouldn't be surprising to see Billy the Kid enter the ring in an underdog role for the first time in his career.

Arnold has the unheard of record of having belted out 10 rivals in one round; seven foemen in two heats, and one antagonist in six stanzas. Billy Furrone did the so-called "impossible" twice by going the full route twice. The Assassin is hoping and confident that Alvarez will be the 19th kayo victim and will fall by the wayside sometime after 10:30 p. m.

Alvarez's record of having flattened Ellis Phillips; decisioned Bobby Ruffin, Terry Young, Chester Rico, Baby Arizmendi and Joe De Jesus speaks well for Roman. He lost to lightweight champion Bob Montgomery in his only appearance here. Since that setback, Alvarez has won four consecutive battles. He is certain that Arnold will be his fifth victim tonight.

Arnold expects to weigh in at 143 pounds at the official scaling services in the Commission Office this afternoon. Alvarez figures he will hit the Fairbanks at 141 pounds.

Of equal importance as the major battle is the undercard, composed of three eight-rounders and a six-round curtain raiser.

Pedro Hernandez, last of Al Weil's stable of glove clansmen, and Hubert Samuels, who, like Arnold, is also an alumnus of the Benjamin Franklin High School, clash in the semi. Both men scored knockouts in their last local showings. Pedro belted out Freddie Pope in two rounds while Samuels flattened Jimmy Collins in five.

The second eight-rounder will be a repeater between Jackie Leamus, of New York, and Santa Buca, Blinky Palermo's gladiator. They rattled a hurricane draw the last time they met, with Leamus flooring the downtown Latin to even the score.

Jamaica Harold Smith, stablemate of Bob Montgomery, and Ray Rovelli, rugged Jersey City warrior, will swing haymakers at each other in the first of the eight-round duels.

The curtain-raiser, a six rounder, will be between Austin Johnson, of Atlantic City, and Billy Wesley, of this city. These fistmen, who are heavyweights, fought a hectic draw at the Resort City recently.

Promoter Taylor is expecting a paid attendance of 8,000 fans to be on hand with receipts being over the $15,000 mark.

Dewey - for - President bandwagon, Pennsylvania Republican leaders today continued to refuse to commit their delegates to the Republican National Convention for any candidate.

This was learned after campaign managers for Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, leading contender for the nomination, and Governor John W. Bricker, of Ohio, the only avowed aspirant, called on Governor Edward Martin and Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor to seek support for their candidates.

"We made no pledges or commitments to either side," said Governor Martin following the conferences. "The Pennsylvania delegates will speak for themselves at Sunday night's caucus."

Meeting with the Governor and Mr. Taylor were: J. Russell Sprague, national committeeman from New York, and Edwin F. Jackle, New York State Republican chairman, who represented

Governor Dewey; and Roy D. Moore, Ohio publisher, Governor Bricker's campaign manager.

Despite his refusal to pledge the Pennsylvania delegates, who will arrive here Sunday morning, Governor Martin declared there was a decided "drift" toward Mr. Dewey's candidacy.

The reason for the drift, he said, is that:

"Governor Dewey's public career has been a courageous one, fighting rackets and other un-American things. The biggest racket in the history of our country is the enormous, non-essential payroll down in Washington."

The Pennsylvania delegates, from all indications, will endorse Governor Dewey's candidacy Sunday night and start the bandwagon rush which will possibly lead to his nomination on the first ballot.

Besides the Dewey and Bricker managers, Governor Martin also conferred with several other Republican State executives, including Governors Dwight Green of Illinois and Harry F. Kelly of Michigan, on the course to pursue in the convention.

While the Illinois bloc of 59 delegates remains unpledged and will reach no decision until a caucus Sunday night, the 41 Michigan delegates are expected to support Governor Dewey on the first ballot, since he is a native of that State.

"My conferences with the other Governors," said Mr. Martin, "were designed to iron out the platform so there will be no controversies, and to keep the campaign principles as short as possible. Furthermore, we want to see a ticket selected which will avoid bitterness after the convention."

Pennsylvania, he said, is advocating "a short and easily understood platform which gives equitable consideration to labor, industry and agriculture and allows no one group or section to have an advantage over the other."

"We also want a platform," added the Governor, "that pledges every effort for the winning of the war and the maintenance of production for the prosecution of the war. Also, we stand for collaboration with other nations to secure a permanent peace, but with the maintenance of the sovereignty of the United States."

Pennsylvania's two members of the platform-drafting Resolutions Committee, former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy, of Bristol, and Mrs. Hannah Durham, of Allentown, have been attending all public hearings of the group. Yesterday Mr. Grundy was named to a sub-committee on foreign trade, while Mrs. Durham was named to a similar group studying post-war economy.

BURG-EL-ARAB AND FIGHTING DON HEAD LISTED AT CAMDEN

There Are 133 Nominees
For the $20,000 Walt
Whitman Stakes

BEST OF 2-YEAR-OLDS

Six Furlong Sprint To Be
Run on Labor Day at
Garden State Track

CAMDEN, N. J., June 24—Unbeaten Burg-El-Arab and Fighting Don, along with the double stakes' winner Floodtown, head the list of 133 nominees for the $20,000 Walt Whitman Stakes, principal test for juveniles to be decided during the 50-day summer meeting at Garden State Park. These are unquestionably the best 2-year-olds shown to date in the east and their presence must give added lustre to the six furlong sprint which will be run on Labor Day, Sept. 4.

Burg-El-Arab, a long-striding Boobum colt owned by Lt. Col. C. V. Whitney, has impressed all with his blazing speed during his short career. Winner of the historic Tremont in his last start, Burg-El-Arab again is upholding the brilliant racing record of Whitney horses. In addition to Burg-El-Arab, Whitney, who is serving in the air forces overseas, has three other star performers entered for the Walt Whitman. They are Hindu Kush, rated only slightly behind Burg-El-Arab by the Whitney stable connections; Jeep, a stretch-running Mahmoud colt, and Cave Man.

Fighting Don likewise is undefeated in two starts and his owners, Donovan and Sprow, are hopeful that the colt will go on to duplicate the racing deeds of his illustrious sire, Fighting Fox. According to clockers around the New York tracks, Fighting Don may well fill his dad's racing shoes.

Another royally bred youngster is Flood Town, winner of Belmont's Juvenile and National Stallion Stakes. Son of Johnstown, the colt owned by Lt. Edward Lasker is reported to be a dead ringer for his sire and has been running in much the same manner. A bullet out of the starting gate, Flood Town has already proven his gameness by twice beating off Whitney's Jeep in stretch drives.

The Louchamps Farm, which provided last year's Walt Whitman winner in Dance Team, will be back again seeking to repeat with Baron Jack, a Stimulus-Heloise colt who cost $33,000 at the yearling sales, the second highest price of the season. Baron Jack has raced only once and ran green. He should be well seasoned by the time the Walt Whitman Stakes is run.

Other classy nominees are Alabama, a $17,000 purchase who won Pimlico's Red Parr Stakes; J. M. Roehling's Jersey-bred trio of Ace Flash, Ace Star and Ace Skipper, all sons of the famous Case Ace. Ace Star is a full brother to Loch-invar, the Quaker City Handicap winner here last year. Mrs. Payne Whitney's Dockstader, Pimlico Nursery victor, is another prominent prospect.

On the left flank, advanced elements, meeting but little artillery fire, breached a number of strong-points which were well placed and highly fortified but not tenaciously defended.

On the southern sector, where the deepest breakthrough developed, there was little enemy fire during the night. On the southwestern flank, where the Yanks captured Mont Duoc yesterday, there was little change.

Mrs. Gilbert Mead, in charge of the surgical dressing division of the New Hope Branch of the Red Cross, announces an emergency need of workers to make dressings. An accelerated course for volunteer nurses' aides will be given this Summer by the Red Cross. All women are urged to take this three weeks' course. Information may be obtained from Mrs. John A. Flood, of New Hope. Mrs. Wilmoit Quinby, head of the Solebury surgical dressings unit, announces that work in that community may be increased.

ADVANCED ELEMENTS OF AMERICAN SIEGE FORCES ADVANCE TO WITHIN ONE MILE OF CHERBOURG'S LIMITS

German Morale Begins to Deteriorate as American
Spearheads Crack Nazi Defenses—Wedge Forged
Through Southern Defense Perimeter.

By International News Service
ON THE CHERBOURG FRONT.
10 A. M., June 24—Advanced elements of American siege forces advanced today to within little more than a mile of Cherbourg's city limits.

The German morale began to deteriorate as the American spearheads cracked the Nazi defenses one by one to strike within 2,000 yards of their goal.

The forward units which forced a wedge through the southern defense perimeter continued to press ahead until they seized high ground only a little more than a mile distant.

Later these advance elements were withdrawn slightly to permit the bombing of strong points which had been by-passed in the attack and from which a cross-fire was coming.

Formation after formation of medium bombers roared over toward Cherbourg to bomb strong points which command the main highway approaches to the city.

Business Girls Attend Session in Philadelphia

The Bristol Business Girls' Club attended a home hospitality committee meeting at the Women's University Club, Hotel Sheraton, Philadelphia, this week.

This group, which has been conducting parties and dances for members of the armed forces, are also interested in helping them when the men begin returning from the war.

L. M. Robinson, British consul general, conducted a discussion on England. This country was chosen for the first meeting because so many Americans have been there during the past few months preparing for the invasion. This is the first of a series of four such discussions to be held at two week intervals: Norway, Russia and China will be future subjects.

These "Women of Tomorrow" have as their chairman, Mrs. Walter A. Craig, Philadelphia.

The Business Girls' Club held a box social for service men at the Bristol Methodist Church Wednesday night. The room was decorated in red, white and blue. Each girl took a box lunch packed for two with her name on the inside, and each service man selected a box and ate with the girl whose name was in the box.

Music was provided by a local orchestra, and prizes were given for spot dances. The next party will be on July 12th.

WILL START DRAFT OF FOREIGN POLICY PLAN

Subcommittee Meets Today
To Start Work On All
Important Declaration

TO HEAR WITNESSES

CHICAGO, June 24—(INS)—The subcommittee writing the foreign policy plank for the Republican national platform met today to begin work on the all important declaration.

Headed by Senator Warren R. Austin of Vermont, the subcommittee heard a number of witnesses yesterday and last night and then adjourned to meet today in closed session.

Senator Austin revealed he might reopen the hearing to permit Senator Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota to appear. The latter, an exponent of maintaining peace through force, will be heard if he requests a chance to address the subcommittee, Austin declared.

If he does not seek a hearing, the Austin committee will begin the executive session from which will come the Republican foreign plank.

Senator Ball has indicated the Mackinac draft which was presented by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan is acceptable to him.

The Mackinac draft was prepared by the Mackinac commission on foreign policy and called for preservation of peace through international co-operation. Backers of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for the presidential nomination have assured committee members that the draft is acceptable to the New York governor.

127 Killed, 650 Hurt By Tornado; Much Damage

PITTSBURGH, June 24—(INS)—A deadly, swirling tornado which blazed a path of death and destruction from Pittsburgh into northern West Virginia today left at least 127 dead and about 650 injured.

Additional scores of persons were reported missing and many of the dead were unidentified. Many children were orphaned by the "twister's" devastating course.

Hundreds of homes and buildings were razed and in some cases whole communities—most of them southwestern Pennsylvania mining towns—were left in ruins.

Fifty were killed in Shinnston, W. Va., which suffered the full brunt of the swirling storm and where hundreds of homes and other buildings were leveled.

As communications, knocked down by the blast of an 88-mile-an-hour wind were gradually being restored, it was expected that the toll of dead and injured will increase materially, particularly in remote areas.

Twenty-two were known to have died in Chartiers, 10 in McKeesport, five in Waynesboro, two in Indiana, all Pennsylvania communities, and one in Wellsburg, W. Va.

Alfred Pearson, Jr., 18, Dies After Operations

A Bristol high school student, Alfred Pearson, Jr., aged 18 years, died in Abington Hospital yesterday, he having undergone two operations in that institution.

The youth, son of Alfred and Lillie Pearson, of Pine Grove street, had had his appendix removed five weeks ago at the hospital. On Wednesday of this week he underwent another operation after his condition had become more grave.

The young man, who had just completed his sophomore year at Bristol high school, was a member of the high school band. He was born in Wilkes-Barre, but had resided here with his parents for a number of years.

Two sisters and two brothers also survive: Doris, Barbara, Thomas and Gordon Pearson.

The Rev. Arthur F. Gibson, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Edington, will conduct the service at the Golden funeral chapel, on Monday at two o'clock. Burial will be in Bristol Cemetery. Relatives and friends, also members of Bristol high school band, are invited to call at the funeral chapel on Sunday evening.

McGowan, aged 26 years, re-entered the army in 1942 after having served some time previous in Hawaii. He went overseas for the second time in December, 1943. Sgt. McGowan has a daughter, Helen, three months old, whom he has never seen. Mrs. McGowan formerly resided in Bristol.

American Forces Fight Way Up Tapotchau Cliffs

Aboard a Joint Expeditionary Flagship, Saipan—Via Navy Radio—American marines and soldiers fought their way up the steep, jagged cliffs guarding Mount Tapotchau today over the most savage terrain encountered in the Pacific war since Attu.

Other marines circled the palisades above Magicienne Bay to reach the town of Lualaba in an advance of roughly one mile.

The entire southwestern section of the island below Aslito has been turned into a mighty artillery base which is hurling shells day and night toward the mountainside.

The Japs have virtually abandoned the foothills and the coastal plain and are fighting from a succession of cliffs which rise like knife blades around Tapotchau. Our patrols actually entered the suburbs of Garapan with virtually no opposition.

Cherbourg Defenses Pierced at 3 Points

London—American assault units have pierced the Cherbourg defenses at three points and battles now are raging between the port's defensive belt and the city itself, the German transocean agency said today.

"In places the Americans are within less than two miles of the city proper," Transocean said. "Every inch of ground is being contested. . . the seaward strongpoints are also still in action. . . The harbor is already in ruins." Radio Vichy said that violent battles are raging inside the fortified belt at Octeville and Fort Du Roule.

Smash at Nazi Communications

London—American heavy bombers smashed at Nazi communications lines in France today in the wake of heavy RAF night attacks over the same area. Enemy installations were hit hard but no specific location of the objectives was given immediately.

The Nazi-controlled Paris radio claimed that the area of the old French capital was hit hard. The night attacks were aimed at two rail centers deep in France through which German reinforcements for the front are funneled. Early in the morning, the German home radio reported the presence of Allied planes over northern, northwestern central and southern sections of the Reich.

QUAKERTOWN GIRL IS GIVEN SCHOLARSHIP

Nancy Souder Strawn
Achieves Highest Rank of 34 Contestants

COVERS FOUR YEARS

Nancy Souder Strawn, of Quakertown high school, received the four-year state scholarship for having achieved the highest rank among the 34 contestants in the Bucks County state scholarship examination.

This examination was conducted at the Doylestown high school on May 5th under the direction of Dr. Ruth Fedder. Miss Strawn was tied with Cynthia M. Tomlinson, of George School, and Peter Hazen Jung, of Doylestown high school, for first place. The tie was broken by using the English test. Miss Tomlinson was ranked second, and Peter third. Anita R. Mann, of Doylestown, and George J. Dely, of Sellersville-Perkasie, were tied with a score of 94. After this tie was broken Miss Mann was ranked fourth, and George fifth. Newton P. Condict, of Sellersville-Perkasie, and Dorothy M. Hunsberger, of Doylestown, were tied with a score of 90. After this tie was broken Newton was ranked sixth, and Miss Hunsberger seventh. Raymond Groff, of Quakertown, was ranked eighth, and Gordon B. Krentz, of Doylestown high school, ninth. Louise Arndt, Doylestown high, and Joan P. Yochum, Quakertown, were tied with a score of 86. Louise Arndt, after the tie was broken, ranked 10th, and Joan, 11th. Jeanne L. O'Dea, of Bensalem, and Harry Riebel, of Doylestown, were tied with a score of 85. After this tie was broken Jeanne was 12th and Harry 13th.

Lewis A. Tomlinson, of Bensalem was ranked 14th, and Bernard C. Toomey, of Churchville, who attended Hathboro high school, was 15th. Mary Crouthamel of Buckingham, Mary E. Jamison of Richboro, and Merrill Weisel, of Sellersville-Perkasie, were tied with a score of 80. After the tie was broken Miss Crouthamel ranked 16th, Mary Jamison 17th, and Merrill Weisel 18th.

There were only 12 boys of the 34 contestants who took this State Scholarship examination. This was undoubtedly due to the fact that service in the armed forces looms ahead of the boys.

The next meeting will be held on July 5th.

LET'S SHOW THEM! . . .

"We can beat the Germans, we can beat the Japs—but it takes your money invested in the best investment in the world, the United States Government Bonds," the local committee reminds. "The boys invest their lives. Pray for them, sacrifice for them, buy war bonds for them."

PFC. HEADLEY WARNER IS SLIGHTLY WOUNDED

Son of Councilman Has Been Overseas For Past 13 Months

TRAINED IN KENTUCKY

PFC Headley W. Warner, 24, of the Armored Division, U. S. Army, has been slightly wounded in action in Italy, according to a telegram sent his parents, Councilman and Mrs. William W. Warner, by the War Department.

The young soldier, who is single, sustained his wound on the 29th of May, but his parents have received messages from him since that time, and they are of the opinion that he is improving nicely since he is able to care for his own correspondence. In his letters he had also mentioned an injury to his hand which had not been sustained in battle.

Warner, who has been a member of the army since November, 1942, trained for four months at Camp Campbell, Ky., and was sent overseas 13 months ago. He was in Africa for a time, and then went to Italy with the U. S. forces.

PFC Warner informed his parents that the wound was sustained after seven days and six nights of fighting.

Before entering the service he was employed by his father at the latter's garage. He is a graduate of Bristol high school.

A brother, 1st Lt. Wayne K. Warner, is a navigator instructor, at a base in Nebraska.

2nd Lt. Mary Chubb Is Killed in Plane Crash

DOYLESTOWN, June 24—A Bucks County army nurse, 2nd Lt. Mary E. Chubb, was killed in an airplane crash in England on the 14th of June, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. C. Chubb, have been informed.

There were included in the telegram from the War Department no other details regarding the accident.

As far as is known at the present time, Lieut. Chubb is the first woman in the armed forces from Bucks county to be killed. She was attached to the headquarters of the Eighth Army Air Force.

At the same time that the telegram was received, the mail brought a letter to her parents from Lieut. Chubb, written on May 31. In her letter she referred to a conversation she had had with the bombardier of the crew to which her brother, Lieut. Donald V. Chubb, of the Army Air Corps, belonged, and who has been reported as missing since May 8. She wrote that she felt that he was alive and probably a prisoner in Germany.

Lt. Mary Chubb was commissioned in the Army Nurse Corps on December 7, 1942, and reported for duty at Fort Meyer, Va., the following day. She has been in England for a number of months. In February of this year she wrote of meeting Staff Sgt. George B. McLaughlin, Jr., and of hoping to meet her brother, Sgt. McLaughlin was reported missing on May 20.

ITALIANS HAIL THE ALLIES "LIBERATORS"

Bristol Soldier Tells How They Come From Hills Looking Like Ghosts

"WOLF" THEIR FOOD

Sgt. Jasper Genco, who is with the U. S. Army somewhere in Italy, writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Genco, 445 Jefferson avenue, as follows:

May 4, 1944.

Dear Folks:

My letters have become very infrequent I know, and they may become even more so.

I always mention in my letters that I can't tell you what I am doing, so I have decided that that causes more worry than I were frank.

I'm in the fighting part of this war, and I feel I must tell you some of the things that have been passing through my mind. I told Jim not to tell you I was in it, but so what—there isn't anything to worry about. I certainly find this much less dangerous than some of the jobs I had behind the lines.

This war in some respects has not hardened me in the least, in fact in some instances I have become more sentimental than ever before in my life.

There is also a part in this war that makes you feel glorious in the full sense of the word. It makes you feel pity more than fear. The fearful part used to be the night raids and shellings by artillery. That all has been cut down a lot, and what's left we have grown used to.

The pitiful part is really heart-rending, that comes when we drive the Germans from a town and the Italian people come down from the hills looking like ghosts—skin and bones. They have been eating grass. They cheer and salute us and cry, call us "Liberators." It sends chills through you and gives you more material reason for fighting the dirty In one town we entered we stopped to eat and as if like magic there were around us little Italian children and women hungry. We gave them plenty to eat, and an old woman had me nearly in tears. When we fed her she choked in her hurry to get the food down, and when she was

Organization for Economic Development Group Continues With Plans

AWAIT END OF WAR

To Assume Leadership In Battle Against Mass
Unemployment

The organization of the Bucks County Committee for Economic Development is completed for five of the six areas as William F. Hill of the U. S. Gauge Plant of Sellersville accepted the chairmanship for area six and William Varcoe of Wycombe consented to lead the movement in the Doylestown area. According to Charles H. Boehm, Bucks County, new C. E. D. chairman:

"The Committee for Economic Development believes that job number one for American business at present is to cooperate wholeheartedly in the winning of the war. Nothing can be permitted to obstruct that end. When victory has been attained, the Number One job of business will be to assume leadership in the battle against mass unemployment the C. E. D. holds as fundamental the belief that the national welfare will be advanced in direct proportion to the number of workers employed by private business enterprise.

"Success in this endeavor will result not only in the elimination of mass unemployment but also in higher standards of living than we have ever known.

"Failure will leave us with the choice of only two alternatives: mass unemployment or mass government employment. The Committee believes that the existence of the free enterprise system, and of democracy itself, depends largely upon our ability to avoid these two dangers after the war.

"The Committee for Economic Development is an independent, non-political corporation organized by American businessmen for a single purpose. That purpose is: To promote the attainment and maintenance of high levels of employment and production by private business enterprise after the war.

"The National Committee for Economic Development came into being in August, 1942. During the first year of operations, the Committee, under the direction of its Board of Trustees, has evolved a double-barreled program of action.

"1. The Field Development Program.

"2. The Research Program.

"The objective of the Field Development program is to stimulate and assist the nation's businessmen—as many as possible of the two million employees—to assist and intelligent planning for the post-war period.

"Obviously, such a program can only be accomplished by a grassroots approach. The Committee has undertaken, therefore, to organize local C. E. D. groups in all communities.

"The objective of the research program is to discover with the aid of research, by a group of the nation's leading economists, the effects of various national policies on production and employment.

"The Committee does not seek to impose a program on American business. On the contrary, it seeks to bring forth the greatest degree of community activity and individual company planning.

"The Committee does not undertake to guarantee full employment by business. It does undertake to stimulate the energies of business to make the maximum contribution that is possible on a business basis to the high levels of employment and production."

ANSWER TO A QUESTION

One of the big questions before the invasion of France concerned the manner in which American troops who never had been in combat would react to actual combat conditions. The Germans undoubtedly counted heavily on the inability of untried American troops to conduct themselves effectively the first time they were in action.

The question now has been answered to the satisfaction of the Allies and the disappointment of the Germans. The dash with which the Americans took Cherbourg left the Germans dazed and bewildered. The combat-green Americans carried themselves so well that Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, paid them special tribute in a statement to the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes. General Marshall said that the Western Front invasion was perfectly co-ordinated and that on his recent visit to the battlefield he found evidence of a high standard of leadership throughout.

From every portion of the line where our men were fighting," he said, "came reports of the aggressive action, skill and high morale displayed by the American soldier."

"Those engaging in their first combat carried themselves like the veterans of experienced divisions. This probably was the most reassuring aspect of the operations to us and the most depressing to the enemy."

HALEY'S NEW ASSIGNMENT

Some weeks ago the removal of Admiral William F. Halsey as commander of Allied naval forces in the South Pacific gave rise to speculation that he might be destined for an administrative post ashore, a job that would tie him down to a desk and take away from active sea duty one of the most effective naval leaders of the war.

Admiral Halsey's new orders have put an end to such speculation and allayed all fears of his being shifted to a desk job. By his exploits in the South Pacific Admiral Halsey worked himself out of a job in that area, but he is by no means through as a combat officer.

An announcement by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific commander-in-chief, says that Admiral Halsey, because of the relative quiet in the South Pacific area, has been given command of the Third Fleet, which will operate in the Pacific. It will work in the same way as the Fifth Fleet under Admiral Raymond A. Spruance, which has missed few actions against the Japanese in recent months.

It is good news that Admiral Halsey will continue with a fighting command in the Pacific—good news, that is, not to the Japanese but to the American people and the men of the fleet, to whom he is a symbol of daring and great naval skill.

It also is good news to Admiral Halsey himself, who was afraid of just one thing—that the war might be brought to a close before he could strike Japan.

KAYO ARNOLD TO OPPOSE ALVAREZ IN PHILA. SCRAP

Acid Ring Test Faces Hard-
Hitting Fistman On Monday Night

RIVAL IS STRONG FOE

Arnold Has Record of Belt-
ing Ten Rivals Out in
One Round

PHILADELPHIA, June 24—The acid ring test faces K. O. Billy Arnold, the hardest punching fistman to ever represent the City of Brotherly Love within the hempen ropes. The Alumnus of the Benjamin Franklin High School has an eight-round test on Herman Taylor's second Arena Outdoor offering, Monday night.

Fitted against the chap who knocked out 15 of 20 rivals will be the widely experienced Roman Alvarez, now a member of Uncle Sam's Paratroops. Never before has Arnold faced a rival of Alvarez's calibre and, based on what the Spanish-American has shown in his Olympia gym workouts with Mike Evans, it wouldn't be surprising to see Billy the Kid enter the ring in an underdog role for the first time in his career.

Arnold has the unheard of record of having belted out 10 rivals in one round; seven foemen in two bouts, and one antagonist in six stanzas. Billy Furrone did the so-called "impossible" twice by going the full route twice. The Assassin is hoping and confident that Alvarez will be the 19th kayo victim and will fall by the wayside sometime after 10:30 p. m.

Alvarez's record of having flattened Ellis Phillips; decisioned Bobby Ruffin, Terry Young, Chester Rico, Baby Arizmeni and Joe De Jesus speaks well for Roman. He lost to lightweight champion Bob Montgomery in his only appearance here. Since that setback, Alvarez has won four consecutive battles. He is certain that Arnold will be his fifth victim tonight.

Arnold expects to weigh in at 143 pounds at the official scaling services in the Commission Office this afternoon. Alvarez figures he will hit the Fairbanks at 141 pounds.

Of equal importance as the major battle is the undercard, composed of three eight-rounders and a six-round curtain raiser.

Pedro Hernandez, last of Al Weil's stable of glove clansmen, and Hubert Samuels, who, like Arnold, is also an alumnus of the Benjamin Franklin High School, clash in the semi. Both men scored knockouts in their last local showings. Pedro belted out Freddie Pope in two rounds while Samuels flattened Jimmy Collins in five.

The second eight-rounder will be a repeater between Jackie Leamus, of New York, and Santa Buca, Blinky Palermo's gladiator. They battled a hurricane draw the last time they met, with Leamus flooring the downtown Latin to even the score.

Jamaica Harold Smith, stablemate of Bob Montgomery, and Ray Rovelli, rugged Jersey City warrior, will swing baymakers at each other in the first of the eight-round duels.

The curtain-raiser, a six rounder, will be between Austin Robinson, of Atlantic City, and Billy Wesley, of this city. These fistmen, who are heavyweights, fought a hectic draw at the Resort City recently.

Promoter Taylor is expecting a paid attendance of 8,000 fans to be on hand with receipts being over the $15,000 mark.

Dewey-for-President handwagon, Pennsylvania Republican leaders today continued to refuse to commit their delegates to the Republican National Convention for any candidate.

This was learned after campaign managers for Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, leading contender for the nomination, and Governor John W. Bricker, of Ohio, the only avowed aspirant, called on Governor Edward Martin and Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor to seek support for their candidates.

"We made no pledges or commitments to either side," said Governor Martin following the conferences. "The Pennsylvania delegates will speak for themselves at Sunday night's caucuses."

Meeting with the Governor and Mr. Taylor were: J. Russell Sprague, national committeeman from New York, and Edwin F. Jackle, New York State Republican chairman, who represented

Governor Dewey; and Roy D. Moore, Ohio publisher, Governor Bricker's campaign manager.

Despite his refusal to pledge the Pennsylvania delegates, who will arrive here Sunday morning, Governor Martin declared there was a decided "drift" toward Mr. Dewey's candidacy.

The reason for the drift, he said, is that:

"Governor Dewey's public career has been a courageous one, fighting rackets and other un-American things. The biggest racket in the history of our country is the enormous, non-essential payroll down in Washington."

The Pennsylvania delegates, from all indications, will endorse Governor Dewey's candidacy Sunday night and start the handwound rush which will possibly lead to his nomination on the first ballot.

Besides the Dewey and Bricker managers, Governor Martin also conferred with several other Republican State executives, including Governors Dwight Green of Illinois and Harry F. Kelly of Michigan, on the course to pursue in the convention.

While the Illinois bloc of 59 delegates remains unpledged and will reach no decision until a caucus Sunday night, the 41 Michigan delegates are expected to support Governor Dewey on the first ballot, since he is a native of that State.

"My conferences with the other Governors," said Mr. Martin, "were designed to iron out the platform so there will be no controversies, and to keep the campaign principles as short as possible. Furthermore, we want to see a ticket selected which will avoid bitterness after the convention."

Pennsylvania, he said, is advocating "a short and easily understood platform which gives equitable consideration to labor, industry and agriculture and allows no one group or section to have an advantage over the other."

"We also want a platform," added the Governor, that pledges every effort for the winning of the war and the maintenance of production for the prosecution of the war. Also, we stand for collaboration with other nations to secure a permanent peace, but with the maintenance of the sovereignty of the United States."

Pennsylvania's two members of the platform-drafting Resolutions Committee, former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy, of Bristol, and Mrs. Hannah Durham, of Allentown, have been attending all public hearings of the group. Yesterday Mr. Grundy was named to a sub-committee on foreign trade, while Mrs. Durham was named to a similar group studying post-war economy.

BURG-EL-ARAB AND FIGHTING DON HEAD LISTED AT CAMDEN

There Are 133 Nominees
For the $20,000 Walt
Whitman Stakes

BEST OF 2-YEAR-OLDS

Six Furlong Sprint To Be
Run on Labor Day at
Garden State Track

CAMDEN, N. J., June 24—Unbeaten Burg-El-Arab and Fighting Don, along with the double stakes' winner Floodtown, head the list of 133 nominees for the $20,000 Walt Whitman Stakes, principal test for juveniles to be decided during the 50-day summer meeting at Garden State Park. These are unquestionably the best 2-year-olds shown to date in the east and their presence must give added lustre to the six furlong sprint which will be run on Labor Day, Sept. 4.

Burg-El-Arab, a long-striding Boojum colt owned by Lt. Col. C. V. Whitney, has impressed all with his blazing speed during his short career. Winner of the historic Tremont in his last start, Burg-El-Arab again is upholding the brilliant racing record of Whitney horses. In addition to Burg-El-Arab, Whitney, who is serving in the air forces overseas, has three other star performers entered for the Walt Whitman. They are Hindu Kush, rated only slightly behind Burg-El-Arab by the Whitney stable connections; Jeep, a stretch-running Mahmoud colt, and Cave Man.

Fighting Don likewise is undefeated in two starts and his owners, Donovan and Sprow, are hopeful that the colt will go on to duplicate the racing deeds of his illustrious sire, Fighting Fox. According to clockers around the New York tracks, Fighting Don may well fill his dad's racing shoes.

Another royally bred youngster is Flood Town, winner of Belmont's Juvenile and National Stallion Stakes. Son of Johnstown, the colt owned by Lt. Edward Lasker is reported to be a dead ringer for his sire and has been running in much the same manner. A bullet out of the starting gate, Flood Town has already proven his gameness by twice beating off Whitney's Jeep in stretch drives.

The Longchamps Farm, which provided last year's Walt Whitman winner in Dance Team, will be back again seeking to repeat with Baron Jack, a Stimulus-Heliose colt who cost $33,000 at the yearling sales, the second highest price of the season. Baron Jack has raced only once and ran greenly. He should be well seasoned by the time the Walt Whitman Stakes is run.

Other classy nominees are Alabama, a $17,000 purchase who won Pimlico's Hal Parr Stakes; J. M. Roehling's Jersey-bred trio of Ace Flash, Ace Star and Ace Skipper, all sons of the famous Case Ace. Ace Star is a full brother to Loch-Invar, the Quaker City Handicap winner here last year. Mrs. Payne Whitney's Dockstader, Pimlico Nursery victor, is another prominent prospect.

On the left flank, advanced elements, meeting but little artillery fire, breached a number of strong-points which were well placed and highly fortified but not tenaciously defended.

On the southern sector, where the deepest breakthrough developed, there was little enemy fire during the night. On the southwestern flank, where the Yanks captured Mont Ducre yesterday, there was little change.

NEW HOPE

Mrs. Gilbert Mead, in charge of the surgical dressing division of the New Hope Branch of the Red Cross, announces an emergency need of workers to make dressings. An accelerated course for volunteer nurses' aides will be given this Summer by the Red Cross. All women are urged to take this three weeks' course. Information may be obtained from Mrs. John A. Flood, of New Hope. Mrs. Wilnot Quinby, head of the Solebury surgical dressings unit, announces that work in that community may be increased.

BONDS OVER AMERICA

Benjamin Franklin

Lifelike and lively as the prose of his pen stands James Fraser's statue of our "first great American," in Franklin Institute, Philadelphia. His common sense, his articles on thrift, his homely savor has been the cement held together our revolutionary forefathers.

Thrift and fortitude and determination made the 13 colonies these United States. Now it is our turn to preserve the things for which our forefathers died.

ple I promise you it isn't a stock phrase. It's a mild term for what is actually going on.

I don't have to impress the importance of it on you. I think it's enough to tell you that after being here I wouldn't want to leave until it is all over, and I promise you that as far as Italy is concerned it won't be long.

Now, assuring you that I'm in the best of health and that there isn't anything to worry about, and also that I will try to write often,
